The odds are that your customer is coming to your internet business in the first place to save lots of time as well as cash. Customer service is one area where small or sole proprietor outshines giant stores and even well creates online competitions. It doesn't matter whether you are competing in the regions of e trading, e music or e-tail sales of any sort. Tools like email and forms as well as an online commerce site that could provide advice on a 24 hours by 7 days basis, give you a strong advantage when it comes to keeping customers and building customer loyalty.
